If only the members of your profession, Mr.

If only the members of your profession, Mr. Salvini would make some effort to discover for what they were best fitted, and not what they most wanted, what heartaches would be avoided! I have never yet met a time-honored lady who didn't think she could play an ingenue rôle, or a superannuated gentleman who didn't despise the "character old man."

Be a villain, Salvini, and I believe you will be happy. I know this is in direct opposition to the virtue theory, but in your case, my dear fellow, virtue will, I am convinced, step gracefully aside. Ask your papa what he thinks of it when he comes over, and for goodness' sake, old man, don't jet him see any of your heroics. He happens to know too much about that kind of acting himself.

ALAN DALZ.

DRAMATIC GOSSIP.

The Midnight Bell " In to Be an Interest ing Thing of the Spring.

The production of " A Midnight Bell " at the Bijou Theatre, in the Spring, will be ineresting, inasmuch as it is said to be Charles

H. Hoyt's first attempt to get away from his

isual farce-comedy material, with the exception, perhaps, of the opera, "The Maid and the Moonshiner," which he wrote and which Teddy Solomon "composed."

This opers was given at the Standard

At the end of last week a company headed by Luke Martin was organized to play "The Leprechaun" through the country. It opened in Richmond, Va., Monday night, Yesterday its members were back in the city. It is said that this is not due to any fault in the show, but to a financial calamity. The company did not walk back from Richmond.

The definite announcement that "The Undercurrent" will be withdrawn from Niblo's after Saturday night, to be replaced by "The Two Sisters," was no surprise uptown. Several people were fighting for the time.

The first city in which " Little Lord Faunt.

leroy" will be produced, after New York, will be San Francisco, at the Baldwin Theatre.

Somebody asked Graves, the comedian, what the receipts were for his opening night in Jersey City. He said $700. The question was put to Hoey. His reply was $000. Harry Mann immediately posted up a call for re-hearsal. He said that his comedians must, at any rate, work harmoniously together.

C. N. Gardiner says that Clay M. Greene is making changes in his version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and that the name will probable be changed, as it is possible to be too Uncle Tommy nowadays. "The Voodoo Queen" has been mentioned as a title, and Mr. Greene, in case it is decided thus to christen the play, will make that part more conspicuous than it at present.

Gardiner says he has a "Southern society lady" playing in "Fate." Her name is Miss Lee Lamar, the Lee being paternal, the Lamar maternal, Lucky Gardiner!

Dags and Table-Covers Seek an Owner. An owner is wanted at the Thirty-sevents street police station for two dogs, two table-covers, child's cloak, a pair of gloves and a pair of shoes, supposed to have been stolen.

S. M. Fuller.—Marion Manola is still with the McCaull Opera Company.

P. A. Furlong. —President Cleveland's vote in New York City was 182, 738.

A. P. H. —You cannot be dispossessed except by judgment of the Court, and the proposedings to this end will take at least three days.

Wagerer Ao. 1—Joet B. Erhardt came second in the recent Mayoralty contest, the vote being: Grant, 114.111; Erhardt, 75,687; Hewitt, 71,979; Coogan, 9,809; Jonas, 2,845.

Frank Nickenkaier, ... The Nineteenth Ward is bounded by the East River, East Eighty-sixth street, Fifth avenue down to Fifty-ninth street: then Sixth avenue to Fortieth street.

Schor. —L You can publish your design as soon as you have applied for copyright. 2. The lithograph can be printed this year. 5. You must send your name to Washington with the design.

Mental Depression

Peptonix

Are digestive tablets, carefully compounded from prescription of an eminent English physician. T act directly upon the digestive organs, aiding stomach to digest and property assimilate food, insta-relieving pain and discomfort.

Rev. A. HATHAWAT FRANCIS, of 4 Woodville Park, Mt. Pleasaut, 2271: "It affords me sincere pleasure to say a word in favor of Feptonix. I have tried them, and can recommend them heartily."

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23.

BURSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION

The Actual Bona-Fide Number of "Worlds" Printed and Sold Wednesday Nov. 7, 1888, Was 580,205.

J. B. McGurrin, Supt. of Mail and Delivery Dept. W. H. NEWMAN, red before me this 8th day of ber, 1888, J. B. McGurrin, Superin-Worker, who, being sworn, do depose and say that the foregoing statement is true and correct.

A Record Never Before Achieved by an American Newspaper.

JOHN D. AUSTIN.

Commissioner of Deeds.

A LEGALIZED ATROCITY.

Here and now " The Evening World" records its purpose to appeal to the Legislature for the repeal or amendment of that most tyrannous and unjust law that gives certain organized societies an unrestricted authority to rob any parent of his or her child.

That law was commendable in its intentions. It is most atrocious in many of its operations.

"The Evening World" well knows its workings in the famous Josie Shephard case. Only an extraordinarily persistent effort saved the unfortunate child in that instance.

Judge Lawrence has strongly denounced this tyrannous law from the Beach in another recent case of extreme hardship. His condemnation will be concurred in by fair-minded men everywhere,

It is peculiarly "The Evening World's" task to right this terrible wrong, that has too long been legalized. Confident of the support of the public, It hereby pledges itself to the task,

And " The Evening World " has never

THE BROADWAY HOMICIDE.

The police have not lost time in discovering and arresting the two men who are implicated in the killing of THOMAS F. DUNNE on Broadway and Fulton street last Sunday afternoon. Inspector Byangs has in his cus tody HARRY W. HORNER and HENRY M. BREDEN. They admit that they are the parties who became involved in the unfortunate street broil which cost young DUNNE his life.

Of course there was no thought in the mind killing or even seriously injuring the deceased. It was a foolish row among young men, and the deceased showed that he considered all the parties equally to blame when he desired the policeman to make no arrests. Yet the law clearly declares the killing homicide in the second degree, the penalty for which is a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for a term not less than one year nor more than fifteen years, or both fine and imprisonment.

It will thus be seen that a fine alone is regarded by the law as sufficient punishment for some cases of manslanghter in the second degree. It will be for the Court to decide on the evidence whether in this unfortunate affair-as deplorable for the man who struck the blow as for the deceased-a fine alone will satisfy justice,

THE IVINS CASE.

The jury in the suit brought by Mrs. MADGE STONE against WILLIAM M. IVINS came into court this morning with a disagreement. The Judge, in summing up the case, instructed the jury that if they found for the plaintiff it must be on the ground that the defendant, Ivins, was guilty of a fraud and felony, otherwise their verdict could not be accepted.

It is fair to conclude that this consideration influenced the jury. Yet it should not have done so. It certainly is unjust to refuse the plaintiff her remedy, provided she is legally entitled to recover the amount for which she sued, out of a sentimental unwillingness to pronounce a transaction fraudulent if it actually bore that character. A criminal prosecution would not bring her back the money she needs, and her only chance of obtaining her rights, if her claim is a legal and just one, is through a civil suit such as that which has now miscar-

A disagreement of a jury in such a case is not an additional evidence of the fitness of the defendant to hold the important trust of City Chamberlain, the custodian of the city's

Ought not WILLIAM M. Ivins to resign?

WHY NOT PAY UP?

Now, this is too bad. Here is Col. WILLIAM W. Dudler, "Floater Dudler," as he is called in Indiana, shirking the debts he has incurred as Treasurer of the Republican

THE WORLD. National Committee, and putting in obstruct TO SALVINI THE YOUNGER. tive pleas to defeat the alleged creditors who seek to bring him to time in the courts of the

> Miss ANNA DICKINSON's suit is one she ought never to have been compelled to bring. She should have been paid without a murmyr. Now comes the stereopticon man with an unsatisfied claim of $187.50 for ser. vices on election night, and his suit is met by a plea that Col. DUDLEY is not a resident of this State, but of Indiana.

Considering that Col. DUDLEY is said to have won $100,000 on Harrison's election, is this dodging of election liabilities creditable?

A PEACE-LOVING MONARCE.

The young Emperor of Germany made his first speech to the Reichstag yesterday and was greeted with much show of enthusiasm by the delegates. If his declarations are to be believed, his rule will be modelled on the broad, generous principles which his grandfather favored, and his unceasing efforts will be directed towards strengthening the peace of Europe. His alliance with Austria and Italy, he asserts, has no other object.

It will, of course, be gratifying to the other Powers of Europe to find the young Emperor so amicably disposed. But these peaceful professions of European rulers seem to outsiders a trifle inconsistent with their acts A man who goes into the streets with a couple tendent Mail and Delivery Department, and of revolvers in his belt, a bowie-knife down W. H. NEWMAN, Foreman Press-Room of THE his back and a club in his hand may announce] that he is anxious to avoid a fight, but to the ordinary wayfarer he appears to adopt a singular method of displaying his anti-belligerent sentiments.

> Mayor-elect GRANT denies the story that he is about to take a wife. It is said that he denies it "indignantly," but this we unhesitatingly pronounce false and slanderous. The handsome Mayor-elect would never be "indignant" at any inoffensive rumor involving a lady. If he is not going to be married it is his own fault, and is perhaps only because he is at present wedded to the ambition to give the city of his birth an honest, vigorous, efficient and practically beneficial government.

> The Beaver breach of promise case con tinues to amuse the population of that place and produces some hard swearing. Mr. Fay, who is now being broiled by the lawyers, testifies that he never proposed nor intended to marry the plaintiff. But he seems to have followed her pretty closely nevertheless. Naughty man! If he did not mean matrimony why did he run after the

OUR AUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

NOT IN THE WIDOW'S BOND.

The Twenty-third Street Railroad Company, who driver-conductor John McCormack was killed not than a year ago while in the discharge of his doub duties, paid the widow $250 and took a release of he cialms. She brings suit to recover $0.000, asying al-did not know she had signed a release. The Compas-stops the suit by compelling her before proceeding if file a bond for $250 ascurity for costs!

she asks for bread—it is not in the bond! She saks a little cheer to smooth her way Where wrong and death are not " released

She hears, with heart that now must needs It is not "in the bond!"

She signed this-" bond" with hand a-tremb

For the last pressure of the hand she loved! She signed the bond with heartstrings all a-thrill With the new grief that never could be old! JUSTICE she asks-the Law she never conned-

The bells rang merrily—so soon to turn To knells for him who should have been he That morn when he was coldly bid to learn

Driver, conductor-all, to be that day, With horses wild, unused and vagabor That was NOT "in the bond !" The juggernaut rolled on its furious way;

The man, who was its victim, watched its ga No DRIVER who'd another rôle to play Could in that din and press control the reins; A crash, r shrick, the widow's weeds are donne And was THAT "in the bend?" J. B. P.

WORLDLINGS,

The fastest stenographer in this country is prob ably Isaac S. Dement, of Chicago, who recently took down 1, 387 words in five minutes.

A Chicago collector of curios has two silver halfdollars that are declared to be the identical coins that held down the ilds of Abraham Lincoln's eyes the night of his death.

William Black, the novelist, is described as a man of medium height, who gives one the impres-sion that he is capable of great physical endurance. He has short black hair, a thick brown mus tache, a dark hazel eye, a firm mouth and a square

President-elect Harrison's residence in Indianapolis is a neat, unpainted, square brick dwelling, comfortably but not elaborately furnished, and situated on one of the most pleasant avenues in the city. The interior of the residence is extremely homelike, and here Gen. Harrison lives in a very quiet and modest way.

Consolatory.

during a particularly lethargic sleep and is just

Two Things That Cannot Agree. A cough or cold and RIMER'S EXPECTORARY. Insist on having Bilter's and you are positively sure of perfect estatescion. 303 6th are, near Edd at.

ALAN DALE WRITES HIM A PATERNAL COMMUNICATION.

After Religiously Deliberating on the Eter nal Pitness of Things He Pens the Let-ter—A Careful Analysis of Bergfeldt as He Exists and as He Is Made to Appear -Not Like Dandet Intended Him to Re-

As you have a father, and an extremely illustrious father at that, in a state of vigorous terrestrial health, you will probably deny the right of anybody else to feel any paternal in-terest in you. Somebody of note has declared that it is possible to have too many fathers in this world, and it is very far from my intention to discuss that point. At the present time, however, my dear Alexander, your papa is separated from you by the tumultuous and redoubtable Atlantic, so I see nothing of any serious import to prevent my indulging you with just a little paternal ad-I should die if I had to strangle all my beautiful fatherly impulses. They well up tempestuously in my bosom, and in their gurgling vehemence demand an exit. Sooner than let my blood be upon your head, I am writing you this letter. Its motive may be misunderstood, but then, you know, motives so frequently suffer in that way that the fact has ceased to be even interesting.

You occupy the important position of leadng man in one of the finest stock companies in this city, or in any other city, for the mat-ter of that. To play even minor parts in Mr. A. M. Palmer's Madison Square Theatre organization is something not to be wilfully sueezed at, but to appear prominently, as you do, is the summit of many an actor's am-bition.

you do, is the summit of many an actor's ambition.

I have tried religiously to recognize your fitness for this position. I have seen you twice in the rôle of Borgfeldt in "Partners," twice as Lancelot in "Elaine," and on many other occasions that I cannot call to mind just now, and invariably there was something about your performance that curdled the cream of good opinion. I was, as the French say, froissé, and I cannot aptly translate the expression.

You may have heard of the unfortunate truth stickler, to whom a fond mother showed her cherished first-born. The wretched man was expected to praise the baby. Willingly would be have done it, but he felt that he could not perjure his soul. The child squinted; it had a snub nose; it was as red as a boiled lobster; it looked terribly newborn. He hesitated, he stammered, he blushed. At last an inspiration seized him. Gazing eagerly up at the mother, he exclaimed, "Madame, that child, believe me, will have glorious teeth." And, Mr. Salvini, after viewing your performance in "Partners all Looyld say in vone favor was that will have glorious teeth." And, Mr. Salvini, after viewing your performance in "Partners, all I could say in your favor was that your make-up was excellent.

You are called upon to play the part of a German business man who has sprung from the people. The outward ceremonies of society are comparatively unknown to him; he rebels at the swallow-tall coat and cannot understand the pompony sarvility of the society are comparatively unknown to him; he rebels at the swallow-tail cost and cannot understand the pompous servility of the rather exaggerated butler. But he has a heart of gold; all his instincts are those of an ineffable gentleman, and it would be impossible for him to enter any community and remain there long without making friends. He is the soul of honor, and even at times faintly Quixotic. That is the character portrayed by Daudet in his novel, "Fromont Jeune et Risler Ainé," and placed in the play "Partners," by Buchanan.

In your Borgfeldt we see a roaring, ranting individual, who bellows forth his rough-diamondism in just the same way that Hoyt clubs out his humor. There is hardly a trace of delicacy in anything he says or does, and he says or does it all with such intense and ridiculous vehemence that I assure you. Mr. Salvini, I held frantically to my chair whenever he was on the stage. I fancied I saw the chandeliers tremble, and I know that the tympanum of my ear was in jeopardy.

Now a German business man, the senior dartner of a reputable banking establishment, need not suggest a German sausage-maker, nor a German beer dispenser. It is quite possible to show the rough diamond, in a delicate manner without divesting it of one atom of its effectiveness. I distinctly say that no German business man of Borgfeldt's standing could possibly resemble your impersonation, Mr. Salvini. Borgfeldt has a charming wife. He has had her for some time before the play opens. Surely her re-refining presence would have toned Jown that "voice dread" and abolished the insane chuckle with which you punctuate nearly every speech.

Have you ever met a German business that "voice dread" and abolished the insane chuckle with which you punctuate nearly every speech.

Have you ever met a German business man? I am afraid you have not had that pleasure. While it is quite possible to find one that is slightly uncouth, you would have to search for a long time before you discovered a person so offensively gesticulatory, so ruthlessly blatant and so flagrantly in disaccord with other people as Borgfeldt in your hands. His grief is simply noise, his passion a deafening outbreak of sound.

I presume that Mr. Palmer has had his chairs strengthened and his sofas fortified, or they would never stand the strain you put the young the strain of the children of the public schools will be given at Dockstader's to morrow afternoon. "Teacher, teacher!" and Harry Kennedy's life-sized automatons of the public schools will be given at Dockstader's to morrow afternoon. "Teacher, teacher!" and Harry Kennedy's life-sized automatons in the public schools will be given at Dockstader's to morrow afternoon. "Teacher, teacher!" and Harry Kennedy's life-sized automatons of the public schools will be given at Dockstader's to morrow afternoon. "Teacher a deafening outbreak of sound.

I presume that Mr. Palmer has had his chairs strengthened and his sofas fortified, or they would never stand the strain you put upon them when you bang yourself down. It is all so absolutely uncalled for, coro mio (I may as well air my Italiau) that there is no reason on earth why you should waste your energies in this manner. Of course, some people are endowed with a superfluous vitality; but they have no right to inflict it upon their neighbors. Let them go to their barns and chop wood. Then, when they have tired themselves out, they can join their families and behave respectably.

Somebody said to me yesterday: "Salvini's Borgfeldt would be great at the Metropolitan Opera-House." I deny that flatly. Your voice mignt sound less bull-like. That I admit, It would be no praise even to concede that you would be great at the Metropolitan Opera-House. Neither Miss Burroughs, Miss Brookyn. Miss Craddock, Mr. Stoddard nor Mr. Flockton could be seen advantageously there, and in this world it is an undoubted fact that the minority must succumb to the majority. Mr. Palmer's company is admirably adapted to the Madison Square Theatre. You are a member of that company. Therefore there can be no question of your being great anywhere else, just now, at any rate.

But enough of Borgfeldt. While your Lancelot in "Flaine" was a far better performance it was a part that you naturally could not impersonate. Any way the idea of a Lancelot with a Latin accent is absurd. Perhaps you did as much with that rôle as could have been reasonably expected, though of course I cannot on that account say I liked you in it. I saw you a long time ago in Boston, when you played Claude Duval to Miss Margaret Mather's Pauline. Though some years have passed since that performance I remember distinctly your wildly improbable gestures and the utterly unsympathetic impersonation you gave.

And you have talent, my dear Alexander, that no manager can afford to despise. You gestures and the utterly unsympathetic impersonation you gave.

And you have talent, my dear Alexander, that no manager can afford to despise. You make one of the best French or Italian villains on the stage. I would strongly recommend you never to play other marts. The stage villain is a character that has been grievously abused in its day. That it can be elevated to the rank of high artistic value is evident to anybody who saw your admirable

Common Sense

In the treatment of caterrh will indicate that local applications can do but little if any good; being a constitutional disease, caterrh requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's fareanserills. It attacks at once the source of the disease by puritying and enriching the blood, which in passing through the delicate passages of the mucous membrane soothes and rebuilds the tissues, giving them tendency to health instead of disease, and ultimately curing the affection.

Hood's Sareaparilla is sold by draggists. $1: six for $65. Prepared by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

Mailed propald, on receipt of price, 75 cents per box. THE ALLSTON CO., 67 High Street, Buston

Wife-Now, John Smith, what on earth did yo buy that chattering parrot for? Husband (absently)-Oh! For a change I sup-

Lacente Urom Puck.]
Tom Bigbee—I say, Upson, what would you do if you had a million dollars? Upson Downes-Nothing.

A Foregone Conclusion. [From the Toledo Blade.] The suit against Briggs Swift, one of the Cincin-nati Fidelity wreckers, was suddenly terminated yesterday and settled ... We might have known Swift would get away.

Had Been Denc.

This opers was given at the Standard Theatre two Augusts ago. "A Midnight Bell" has been produced at the Aleazar Theatre in San Francisco last winter, where it met with success. It is said to be in the Denman Thompson "Old Homestead" style of architecture. This style of work, it is hardly necessary to say, is being followed very closely, in consequence of its success, by other parties. Neil Burgess's proposed production at the new theatre which is being built in Twenty-third street, is also said to be in the same pastoral lines. [From L(fa.] Emith (to milkman)—171 have to ask you to chall it up. Milkman (abstractedly)—Oh, that's all been attended to—oh—er—beg your pardon; certainly, take your own time.

But it Doesn't Do to Pick Them. [From the Terre Haute Express.] "George, dear, what gind of truit is borne by an electric lights plant ?" * Electric currents, o

A Chronic Offender.

[From Puck.] getting along very well with his third wife."
"Serves him right!" growled old Bache; "any man who continually repeats the same offense de-serves severe punishment!"

Fit and New.
[Frem Puck.]
"I'm somewhat astonished, Carper," remarked Bigbee, as he looked around the room, "to find that so great a bookworm as you should possess so amail a library."

"Ah, my boy," returned the other, "it takes a great deal of reading to find out what ian't worth keeping."

Business Is Business

Party in a nurry-Are you Mr. Corbin? Railroad President—Yes, sir. Party in a hurry—Read that. Railroad President (reads)—"The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert will arrive at Flushing on Nov. 12 to convey Empress Frederick to Eng-land." Well? Party in a hurry—What'il you give me on excursion rates if I get up parties to come up from Gien Cove, Sea Cliff and Bayside to see the old lady off? After all it is quite likely that Charles Wyndham will come to this city next season. Mr. Moore, who is Mr. Wyndham's representative in America, and who has been travelling in the West for his health, has received instructions from Mr. Wyndham to report in New York at once and look after his interests as far as booking a tour was concerned.

A Chicago Mystery.

[From Fime.] ness as steep this winter as you did last, Kate? asked Miss Chicago of her friend Miss St. Louis "Not by a long shot," replied Miss Kate emphatically. "A reaction has struck our Browning Club, as I knew it would. We've voted to cheese Browning and have some of our good, old-fashioned taffy-pullings and cotilion and euchreparties this Winter. How we ever got drawn into that Browning snap is a mystery to me, anyhow."

Advice to Housekeepers

Young Housekeepen - We sympathise with your troubles, and trust that attention to the fol lowing hints will soon wean Charlie from his re

Don't ever try to bake your bacon. Names ar deceptive.

Remove the shells from your hard-boiled eggs after they are cooked. It this is done before putting them in the water the result is not encouraging.

When you get a baker's ple always ask for a cancener with it.

Never soak a Hamburger steak in water over night. It is neither saited nor smoked, however the sessuning may have deceived you. Canned soup is excellent—if never taken out of Depression Of Mind.

Little Walter Perkins, who is playing with "Drifting Apart," at Taunton, Mass. has had a sad experience. His father and mother went to Hartford with him the other day, to see him play there. Before reaching home his mother died from pneumonia. Mr. Perkins had to play while she was dving. "What a hard profession this is." he writes, "when sickness and the death of loved ones have to be borne in such a way, and all our grief covered up. Our business manager played my part on Saturday, I can't tell you what a mockery it seems to play at such a time." Of an the diseases of the nervous system which affile humanity, none is more distressing or causes more misery than despendency and depression of the mind. The sufferer is in greater torture than one who suffers mere bodily pain; it is an anguish of the mind, a weighing pressure, a sense of anxiety and gloom. With this "blue" feeling there is often nervousness or irritability with restrictions of the mereousness or irritability. "blue" feeling there is often nervousness or irritability with restless and wakeful nights, and the person feel dull, dispirited, weak, tired, nerveless or exhausted.

All this is caused by an exhausted condition of nerve force and power, and can be perfectly cured by Dr. Gresene's Nervura Nerve Tonio, which is for sale by all druggists at 81 per bottle. It is nature's true brain and nerve restoralive. Try it, nervous sufferer, and you will be surprised at its wonderful effect. E. F. A.—The steamship City of New York never belonged to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

I. G.—A history of the United States or the books in the "American Statesmen" series.

Burnus.—The Vice-President of a club has, we think, a right to wear the presidential badge while he is Acting President.

A. F. H.—Von annual be described.

be surprised at its wonderful effect. Dr. Greene's Nervura Nerve Tenic Centain ne injurious drugs whatever, but is guaranteed parely vegetable and perfectly harmles If any druggist tells you otherwise, he de-ceives you simply to make you buy his own

Dr Greene, its discoverer, is the w.ll known specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, and he can be consulted free of charge at his office, 35 West 14thst., New York, personally or by letter,

AFTER GREAT CARE IN COLLECTING

FINE CUSTOM TAILORS MISSITS AND UNCALLED FOR CLOTHING, WE OFFER

5,000 OVERCOATS, ALL PABRICS, FROM S5: WORTH S20. Buffalo. Buffalo. George Crawford, of Pittsburg; E. P. Holister, of Buffalo; R. Swarplok, of Saratoga; J. T. Sargent, of Cleveland, and Prof. J. M. Baldwin, of Cleveland, are it the Glisey House. "At the Grand Hotel are A. C. Peekish, of Baltimore; G. W. Daly, of Philadelphila; W. F. Gardner, of Wasnington: Marc B. Gisy, of Boston, and J. J. Maddox, of Troy.

1,000 SUITS IMP. CANSIMERE AND WORSTED, FROM $4.00 | WORTH $16.00.

5,000 PANTS, from 75c. up. .000 Single VESTS, from 75c. up.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED.

MISFIT CLOTHING PARLOR

STARTLING.

London and Liverpool Clothing Co.

86 and 88 BOWERY.

WILL BE COMPELLED TO CLOSE

IN A VERY FEW DAYS

on account of rebuilding our present store.

OUR STOCK MUST GO. THE PRICES WE QUOTE BELOW

Would not pay for the labor of making, say nothing of the material.

1,600 Chinchilla Overcoats, reduced from $15.00 to $5.50. 2,000 Whitney Overcoats, reduced from $16.00 to $5.50. 1,100 Chinchilla Overcoats, reduced from $20.00 to $7.50. 600 Chinchilla Overcoats, reduced from $25.00 to $9.60. 850 Kersey Overcoats, reduced from $28.00 to $11.80.

EVERY GARMENT TAILOR-MADE.

and of our own manufacture.

LONDON & LIVERPOOL

Will also sacrifice their entire

BOYS' CLOTHING STOCK

at such prices as must interest every parent in NEW YORK. JUST FANCY:

$8.00, $9.00 and $10.00 Overcoats at $1.90, $2.90 and $3.85. Such prices would not half pay for the material.

LONDON & LIVERPOOL

will sell fine imported Merino Underwear at 25 cents on the dollar.

Men's Scarlet Undershirts, medicated, 59c. and 88c.

Thousands of elegant Silk and Satin Scarfs at 20c. We have only a few more of these elegant Silk Embroidered Suspenders, silver buckles and solid silk ends, cost from $1.00 to $1.50 to make;

39c. IS OUR PRICE.

HATS! HATS! HATS! HATS!

All our $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 Hats will be sold at 59c., 99c. and $1.20.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK.

LONDON & LIVERPOOL CLOTHING CO.,

86 and 88 Bowery, cor. Hester St. C. L. Binnings, of Newport; J. P. Patterson, of Chmond; W. F. Carr, of Cleveland, and C. B. Woodward, of Great Bend, Miss., are at the Bar-tholdt.

Prominent at the Fifth Avenue are E. G. Scrip-ture, of Boston; C. N. Fort, of Albany: Frank Bulkley Smith, of Worcester, Mass., and W. A. Adriance, of Foughkeepsie.

Adriance, of Poughkeepsie.

Registered at the Albemarie are H. L. Miller, of Pittsburg; Joseph A. Issigi, of Boston; W. O. Hughart, of Grand Rapids, and A. E. Samner, of Cleveland.

Among the Hoffman House guests are S. P. Warawell, of Boston; Maurice McMicken, of Seattle, W. T.; Baron von Roeder, of Germany, and E. L. Martin, of Choago.

Autographs on the St. James register include those of W.R. Clarkson, of Buffalo; J.T. Garrett, of Omans; T. B. Milward, of Lechdale Manor, England, and C. S. Skeeby, of Detroit.

England, and C. S. Sheeby, of Detroit.

At the Brunswick are S. B. Dana, of Boston; G. D. Rogg, of Montreal; Fred P. Vinton, of Boston; Allison V. Armour, of Chicago, and E. B. Hippis, of Cleveland.

At the Stuttevant House are E. A. Montooth, of Pittsburg; W. York Atlee, of Wasnington; Dr. J. F. Perkins, of Baltimore, and J. H. Flynn, of Buffalo.

Among the Workers.

The Building Trades and Furniture-Worker sections meet to-night at 145 Eighth street.

Philadelphia union men and Kniguts of Labo are moving to organize a Central Labor Union.

Mr. Cariton's mileage, postage and carriage bills while a member of the General Executive Board of the Koights of Labor have astonished the Order. It is said by Knights in this city that Mr. Barry's bills are equally interesting.

Edward Pinkelstone's open letter to the German Home Club amuses the Bocialists, in view of the fact that he was of them and 1'er them once upon a La Finncée-Do you know, Clarence dear, that when you gave me your first kies I was so asconshed that I nearly went cresy! Clarence—Ah, yes, darling! I should have mown better than to give you only one.

Miss Agnes Is Just Eighteen A reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lane, 209 East Fifty-second street, is honor of the eighteenth anniversary of the birth of their daughter, Agnes Rose. Many friends were present, and the affair was delightfully pleasant.

Coming Events.

Annual ball of Hanover's Dancing Academy, this evening, at Webster Hall.

becomd annual ball of the Young Ivy Pleasure Club at Walnalis Hall, 48-22 Orchard street, Friday evening, Dec. 7.

Third annual reception of Furman's Dancing Academy at Covenant Hall, 55 Orchard street, Saturday evening, Nov. 26.

Annual recention of the J. J. Shea Association

Annual reception of the J. J. Shea Association at Parspa Hall, Righty-sixth street and Third avenue, Monday evening, Dec. 10. Annual ball of the Ancient Order of Hit New York County, at Farrero's Assembly Fourteenth street, near Third avanue, the evening, Nov. 38.

There are 488 cauning-bouses in Maryland and 25,000 employees, while 1,000 make their living as can-makers. Most of these are Knights of Labor and have a scale which protects their labor. NOS. I AND 3 PHINCE ST., NEAR BOWERY, BOYAND BALLAM, KINEMAK, 1946 st. and 4th ave.